

Sports Annual Report

2022-2023

In this first “normal” year after COVID we still strongly felt the impacts of the pandemic left on communities, their citizens, and the sport system.

The pandemic has had a disproportionate impact on rural Yukon, with limited resources available to support community recreation.

Despite the overall situation, we managed to keep planning and building partnerships with other provinces and territories, funders, and other partners.

From a human resource perspective both YASC staff and board have been stable. Also, the board approved last year a new board responsibilities structure with individual portfolios. This initiative will need refinement through planning and implementation to be even more effective and beneficial to the agency.

Our ongoing programs such as Archery and Arctic Sports have continued to be active and strong. Dene Games has improved dramatically, and it should continue to grow with a renewed interest and participation from parents and coaches.

I also want to thank our partners, the Yukon Government, and the Government of Canada for helping through this difficult financial time by providing us extra resources and flexibility to adapt to unexpected situations. This was particularly critical in preparing toward NAIG 2023.

Once again, I would like to thank our staff and board of directors for facing together these times of uncertainty with calmness and hard work. YASC is now looking forward to AWG in 2024 and NAIG in Calgary in 2027.

Gunatchéesh,

Gordon Reed, President
